FIRST IMPRESSIONS

Getting off to a good start can make all the difference. Finishing best, too. Let's find out what your first and lasting impressions say about you.

Consider for a moment the sheer number of interactions you have with people in the real world or online—every single day. How do they perceive you and what impact does it have on your career or business?

Only if you take a step back and understand how others see you, you can catch a glimpse of self and find ways to represent yourself best possible.

The hard reality is that every day, in countless situations we are judged by our covers. Let's make sure others don't miss the amazing story that is YOU.

You never know who is waiting to be impressed by you. The world is always watching. Are you ready?

Your reputation is not what you think it is. It is what others tell each other about you—an invisible part of your personal brand that you only can control if you start managing the way you show up.

First and last impressions are not about being someone you aren't. It's about affecting others often without saying a word.

A first impression is just that – "a first." It is a snapshot that captures a moment and nothing else, but it sets the tone for everything that follows.

Your vibes never lie. What are they telling others about you, your work ethics, your skills or talents and your ability to solve others' problems? ☆☆☆

You can't manage what you don't know. Do you know what your first impression says about you and how it impacts the way you see yourself and the world sees you?
